

The City of Boston

PROCLAMATION

Whereas: One hundred and fifty years ago today, in 1872, The Boston Globe published its first edition, marking the beginning of a storied commitment to high quality journalism serving Boston, New England and the world; AND

Whereas: We honor the legacy of this vital institution and its continued service to our community. The City of Boston is home to a rich media landscape and has a proud history of producing several of our nation's earliest newspapers. Today we celebrate the Globe's role in advancing an important pillar of our democracy while serving as a critical resource for our community; AND

Whereas: The Globe is partnering with several iconic cultural institutions today and throughout the year to honor the legacy of its history while celebrating the remarkable innovation and growth that is seen across our city. Bostonians are invited to explore the possibilities for our city's future and to join conversations about how The Boston Globe, through local journalism can continue to serve our community for many years to come; NOW

Therefore, I, Michelle Wu, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby proclaim March 4th, 2022, to be:

Boston Globe Day

in the City of Boston

I urge all my fellow Bostonians to join me in recognizing Boston Globe Day as a day of celebration and commemoration in the City of Boston.

MICHELLE WU
MAYOR OF BOSTON
